Tony's Pick: Half Broke Horses by Jeannette Walls -

Half Broke Horses depicts the life of the author's grandmother, Lily Casey, (born 1901) during the first half of the twentieth century.

As a historical novel, it also follows changes of technology and society during that time. It shows the enticements and disappointments of city life for rural people.

Perhaps Lily's most notable accomplishment, at the age of fifteen, was a 500 mile trek on her horse, Patches, to her first teaching position in Arizona. The narrative of her story begins with a plain language describing Lily's childhood years on the ranch and then progresses toward a more contemptuous and coarse speech characteristic of the later part of the century.

It may be questionable whether Lily, as a young girl, would refer to her school superintendent as 'Fish Face' when he did his best to find temporary teaching positions for her. The coarse language may be reflective of the author's time.

Join us for Story Time on Fridays at 10:00 am. All ages welcome.
